

National Manufacturing Day – North Country Events

On Friday, October 5th the United States celebrates National Manufacturers Day, with events being hosted country-wide promoting the importance of manufacturing to our national economy. The North Country Regional Economic Development Council wishes to recognize that three important events will be held simultaneously that day across the region in Watertown, Potsdam and Plattsburgh. These events are designed to invite and interact with secondary school guidance counselors, technology teachers and school administrators to learn more about today's manufacturers here in the North Country, and how important it is to emphasize Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) curricula to prepare our workforce of tomorrow.

As part of the events on October 5th, there will be tours of New York Air Brake, Potsdam Specialty Paper and Schonbek Worldwide Lighting. The Council would like to recognize and thank the following institutions for planning and hosting these events:

CITEC
Clarkson University
Clinton Community College
Jefferson County Industrial Development Agency
Jefferson – Lewis Workforce Investment Board
Lewis County
St. Lawrence County Industrial Development Agency
St. Lawrence County Workforce Investment Board
North Country STEM Learning Network
North Country Workforce Investment Board

Resolved that NCREDC acknowledge the importance of Manufacturing to the North Country Region, and the work that the partners in the regional National Manufacturing Day events are playing to help prepare tomorrow's workforce.
