Stuart Rabinowitz and Kevin Law welcomed the group and explained the purpose today which is to hear about the Round Nine strategic plan and a limited number of recommended projects. Stuart went over the recusal and conflict of interest policy and again asked if any members have conflicts or recusals not already noted by ESD. No members had additional recusals or conflicts. Stuart noted two new appointments to the council: Dr. Hank Foley, President of NYIT and Richard Guardino, Executive Director of the LI Regional Planning Council. Mr. Guardino was in attendance. Kevin Introduced the newly appointed and Acting ESD CEO Eric Gertler who made brief comments acknowledging the role of the RC and the Co-Chairs long service.

Cara Longworth provided an overview of the process noting some 33,000 jobs have been impacted by RC funding since 2011. Cara noted only a small representation of ESD grant funded projects will be in today's brief presentation and none of the other state agency projects such as parks, DEC and NYSCA are mentioned today. Cara thanked the Co-chairs of the newly reconstituted work groups for their roles in refining prior strategies and developing new strategies and identifying issues, challenges and opportunities to keep moving our plan forward. The two new round nine state priorities of environmental justice and child care were discussed. Cara acknowledged the role of Larry Levy (Hofstra Univ.) as the plan's key writer. Mr. Levy was in attendance.

ESD staff members made a presentation outlining past projects as well as some Round nine recommendations. Cara noted this year 30% of the grants recommended will go to businesses that combined will create nearly 300 new jobs.

Kevin Law asked if any council members had questions or comments. None were noted and the public was also asked if they had comments. Al Rizzi who represents an organization called "My Blind Spot" asked that the council consider new methods for increased digital access of council materials for those with sight impairment. Kevin thanks Al for making the council aware of that issue. No other members of the public had comments.

Stuart asked RC members for a motion to accept the plan and project slate with scoring as presented at the earlier 2 pm RC Executive Session meeting that was not open to the public. J. Durso made the motion to accept the plan and scores as presented and J. Nader made the 2nd. The vote was unanimous with no abstentions.

Kevin provided a brief overview of the timing for plan submission (due October 1) and the recommendations will be posted within several days after submission. It is anticipated that the State Investment Assessment (SIAT) presentation will take place in Albany in October or November with awards announcement anticipated in early December.
